

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept 8th 1888

Hon Daniel M. Fox

Supt U.S. Mint. Philada

My Dear Sir, — I suppose you know that Miss Bayard was placed in the Mint originally by me. She is the sister of one of the most gallant General Officers of the War, who lost his life at Fredericksburg, has no means of support, practically, and is not in very good health. — I understand she sent in her resignation and you were kind enough not to accept it, for which I am very much gratified. I am afraid, though, the confinement of the room she is in, without air, has a very bad effect on her lungs. Can you not change her to some place where she will get air? This is an act of justice, and one that I should be very much pleased if you could arrange to grant. —

Miss Bayard has a foolish idea about keeping a boarding house which I think is a great mistake. She better stay in the Mint, and I hope you can arrange to give her a place where her health will not deteriorate —

Very truly Yours, W. J. Sewell.

Camden, N. J.

Sept 8, 1888.

W. J. Sewell.

Requests that Miss Bayard
^{will} be changed to another room.

Reed

Sept 10, 1888.

[Abstract:] Requests that Miss Bayard will be changed to another room.

Camden, N.J.,
September 8, 1888

Hon. Daniel M. Fox,
Supt. U.S. Mint, Philada.

My Dear Sir, -

I suppose you know that Miss Bayard was placed in the Mint originally by me. She is the sister of one of the most gallant General Officers of the War, who lost his life at Fredericksburg, has no means of support, practically, and is not in very good health. I understand she sent in her resignation and you were kind enough not to accept it, for which I am very much gratified. I am afraid, though, the confinement of the room she is in, without air, has a very bad effect on her lungs. Can you not change her to some place where she will get air? This is an act of justice, and one that I should be very much pleased if you could arrange to grant.

Miss Bayard has a foolish idea about keeping a boarding house which I think is great mistake. She better stay in the Mint, and I hope you can arrange to give her a place where her health will not deteriorate.

Very truly yours,

W.J. Sewell